An Off The Grid House

On the remote Lendu Plateau, you can find an off the grid house. The house and shed's structures are built using recycled shipping containers. You will find many windows and sliding glass doors to let in plenty of natural light. It is a three bedroom and one bath home.

You'll never need to worry about having enough food on the home. You'll be able to keep chickens — with a shed that will have incubators — goats, and farming plots where you can grow cassava, plantains, maize, groundnuts, and rice.

To have plenty of water for you and your family, not only is there a stream on the property but there are rain collection barrels to have some extra water.

Fun Facts about DRC

- Music is DCR's number one export.
- The second-largest French-speaking city is Kinshasa.
- DRC gained independence from Belgium.
- Africa's second-longest river, after the Nile, is the Congo River at 2,900 miles. The Congo River is also the deepest river in the world.
- The Congolese Rainforest, the second-largest rainforest in the world, is partially located in DRC. This rainforest spans six countries.
- DRC is home to the okapi, an endangered species. It is native to the Ituri Rainforest, located in DRC, the only place that the okapi is found in the wild.

Fun Facts about DRC

- DRC is Africa's second-largest country and the eleventh largest in the world.
- Measured by GDP per capita based on purchasing power parity, DRC is the fourth poorest country in the world.
- DRC shares borders with nine countries.
- Africa's third tallest mountain is located in DRC.
- The first Europeans to set foot in DRC were Portuguese
- Congo River is what gave DRC it's name.
- DRC gained full independence from Belgium on 30 June 1960.
- Africa's oldest national park, Virunga National Park, is located in DRC.

An Off The Grid House

Now you're probably a bit worried about electricity, but you have no reason to be. You can find solar panels on the roofs, wind turbines around the property, and a small hydroelectric dam in the stream.

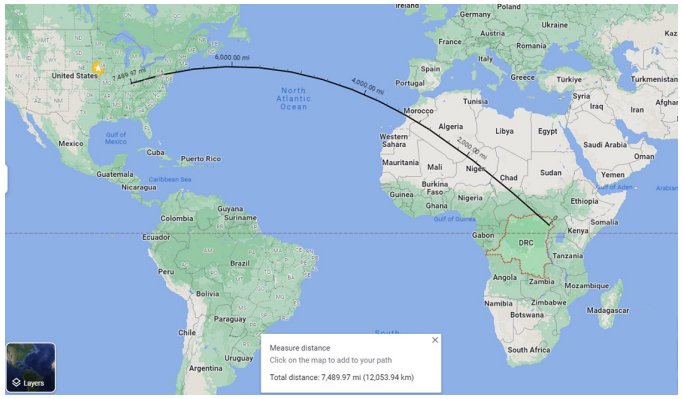
Another thing you could be worried about is how insanely hot DR Congo is, but you have geothermal heating and cooling to keep you and your family cool.

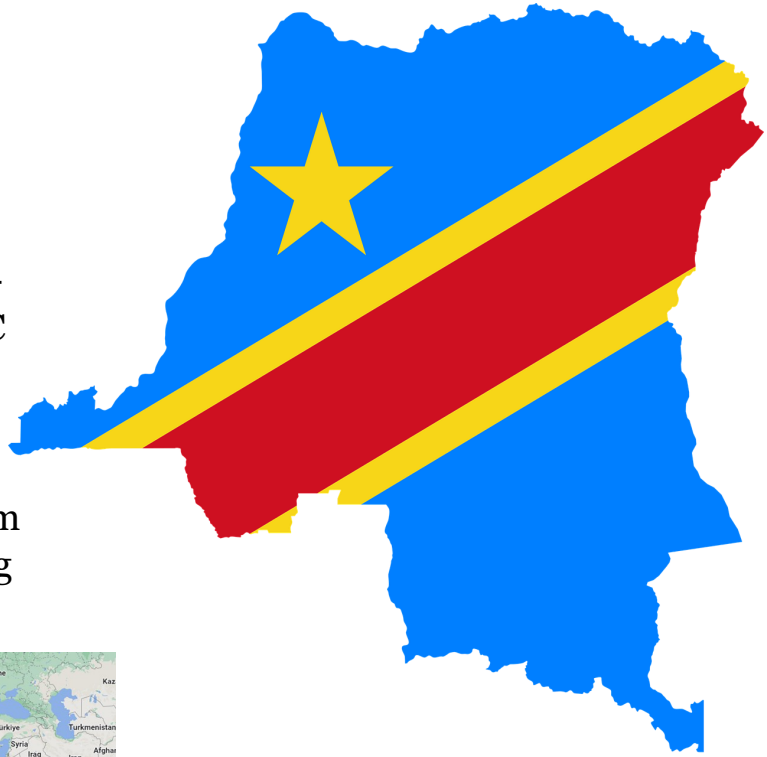
One last thing is sewer. On the property there is a septic tank that can be pumped into the river.

Resources

Peter. "27 Facts about the Democratic Republic of Congo." The Facts Institute, 28 Aug. 2020, www.factsinstitute.com/countries/facts-about-the-democratic-republic-of-congo/.

Virunga National Park. "10 Interesting Things about DRC Congo That You Should Know." Virunga National Park Congo, 9 Jan. 2018, www.virungaparkcongo.com/information/10-interesting-things-drc-congo-know/.





Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC)